SPECIAL POPULATION WEBINAR: April 28, 2022
"Avoiding Hospitalizations from Nursing Facilities:
It All Starts with a Good Admission to the Nursing Facility".

This webinar will follow this quarter's educational theme of reducing avoidable hospitalizations from nursing facilities. Based on the requests from service coordinator managers and supervisors and nursing facility staff to learn more about the resident's experience and the role of the MCO, we are inviting you to a special population webinar. We will explore key factors for a successful admission to a nursing facility and the mechanisms that could help in early identification of issues that might result in a hospitalization.

Please invite the following Special Population Team Members:

- Admission Coordinator
- Director of Nursing or designated nurse who reviews admissions
- Social Services
